Dr. Jesse Hendricks

Dedication

In respect for his fifty years of dedication to the teaching profession . . .

In admiration of the higher ideals of life which he exemplifies . . .

In gratitude for the inspiration that he provides . . .

We dedicate, this, the 1964 Chieftain in honor of Dr. Jesse W. Hendricks.

In Memoriam . . .

John F. Kennedy

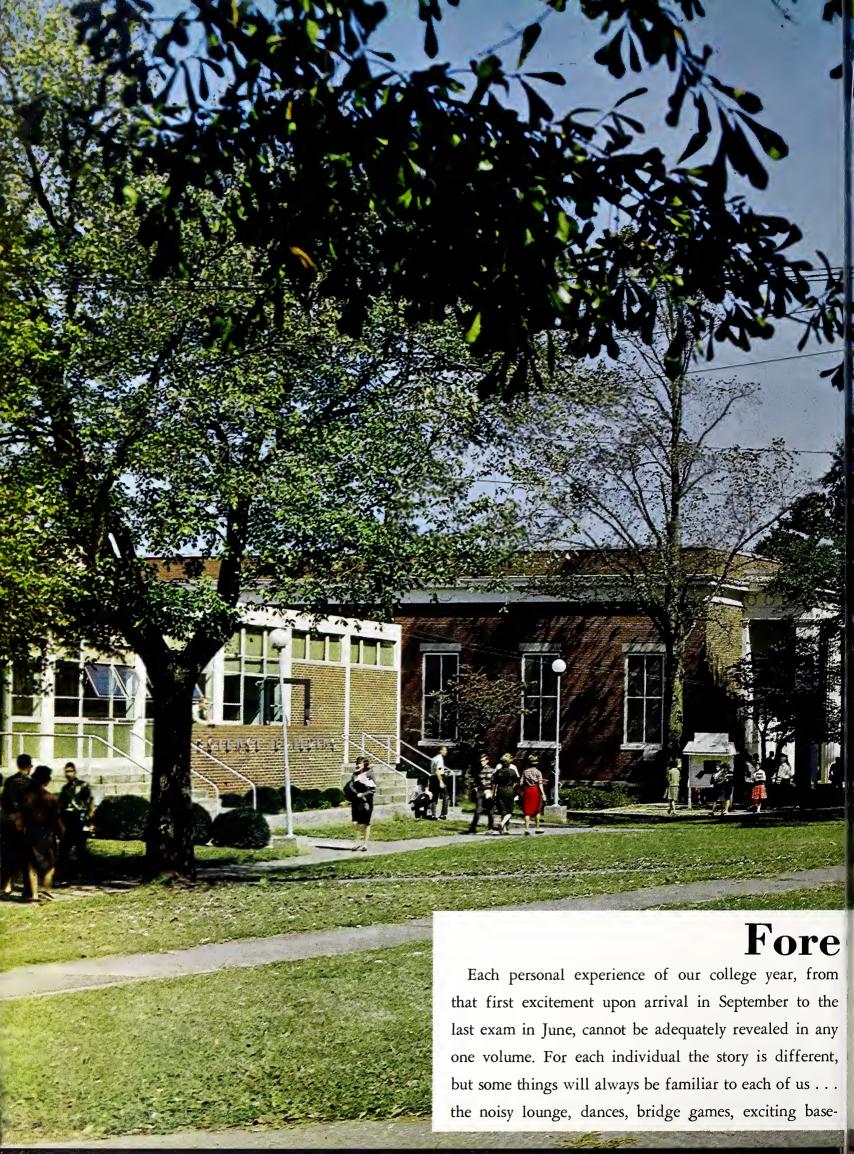

On November 22, 1963, the course of history was suddenly changed in the midst of bright sunshine in Dallas, Texas. A bullet from the gun of Lee Oswald struck and killed the leader of our nation. The grief and unbelief of that day and the days that followed is clearly remembered.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy is dead. Death cannot destroy the respect and admiration of a nation. May we in the years to come, reflect upon this event with renewed respect for this man and for the office of President of the United States.

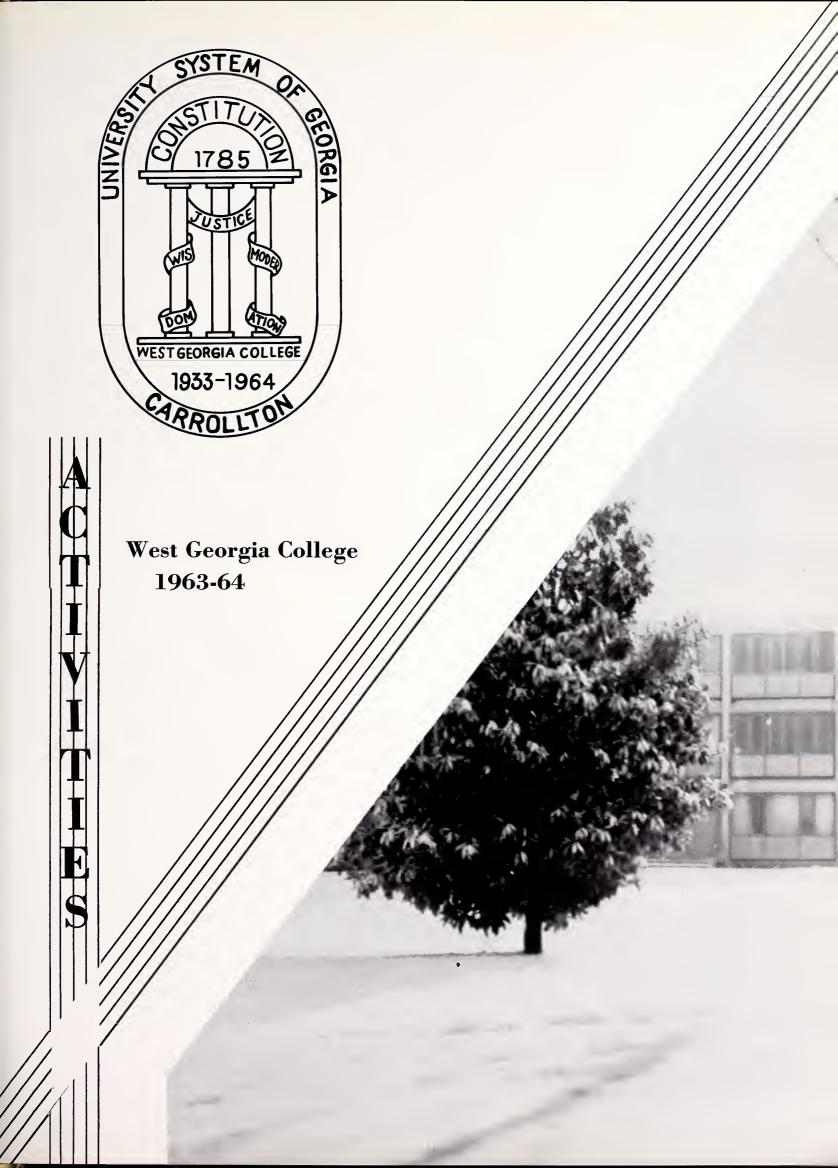

President Kennedy speaking at Warm Springs, Georgia, in 1960.

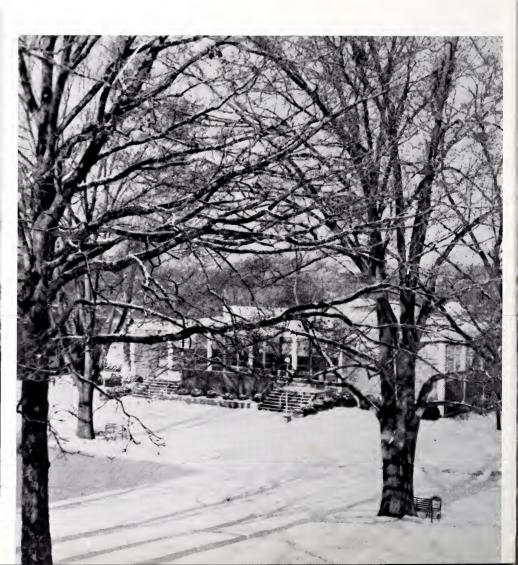

For Memory,
all that remains is the good and the pleasant . . .
the heart of West
Georgia
College . . .

... the heart which gathers its being from students.

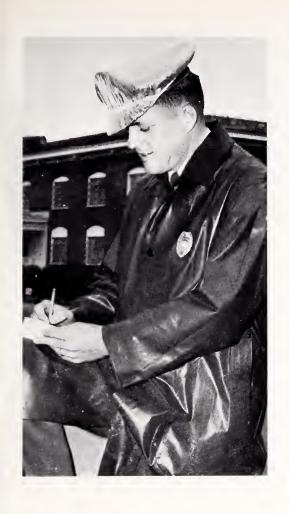

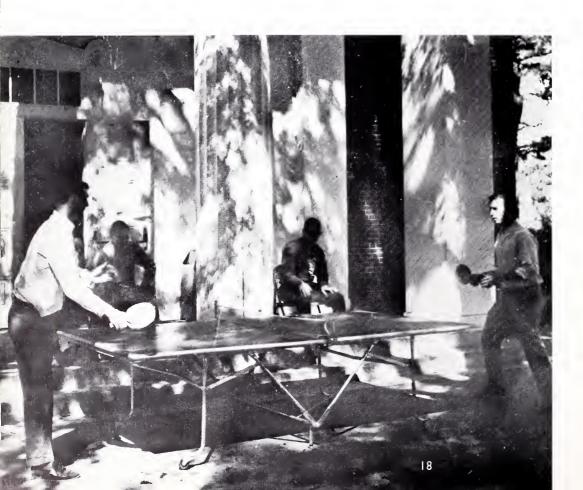

The student body becomes the student mob when registration and administration take over . . .

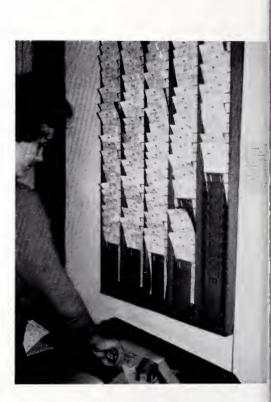

... but perseverance triumphs and once again a new routine is found

... soon the inevitable college goal presents itself and the real work begins.

Things, People, Places . . .

The great and the small all come too soon and pass quickly leaving for memory . . .

In its best season since becoming a senior college, the West Georgia basketball team had a year of many firsts. It was the first winning season, the first undefeated home schedule, the first team with a six game winning streak, the first team to score 44 field goals, the first team to break the school scoring record by chalking up 103 points, the first with three all-conference players, and the first to host and win the annual West Georgia Invitational Tournament.

The Braves were strong contenders for the GIAC championship title until their last game. In the strongly competitive conference, the Braves were out front in the conference twice, but failed to overcome Shorter College in the final game.

Under the direction of Coach Howard Corder, the Braves finished the season with a 15-6 won-lost record. In the GIAC, the Braves placed third.

The team was led in scoring by guard Ron Undereiner with a 19.3 average. David Brookins, the only junior in the starting line-up, led the team in rebounding with a 13.3 average. Bill Shotwell was second with a 12.2 average rebounding and a 16.2 average. Defensive specialist Jerry Hammond led the aggressive Braves on defense. The other member of the starting five is Dan Lee. Dan's position of third in scoring, rebounding, field goal and free throw percentage is an indication of his steady play.

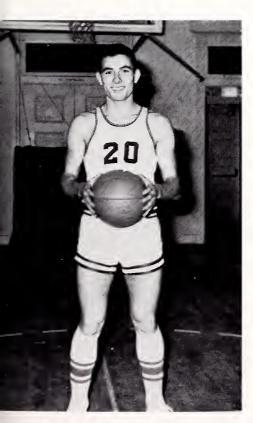

West Georgia College placed three men on the all-conference team. Ron Undereiner, Bill Shotwell, and David Brookins were selected by the coaches and officials to receive this honor. Ron Undereiner was also named Most Valuable Player in the GIAC and named captain of the all-conference team.

The West Georgia Braves, winners of nine out of twelve outings in the 1963 baseball season and owners of a second consecutive Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference crown, face generally the same problems in preparing for the 1964 docket as they did a year ago.

Coach Thomas R. D'Armi, perhaps the most successful diamond tutor in the small college ranks, reviews the '63 season with the same degree of disbelief that he confronts in terms of the '64 season.

Last year's Braves opened the season with V.M.I., who had, the season before, been ranked in the number 11 position in national standings. The Braves defeated V.M.I. in claiming their first of nine '63 victories.

In the course of the '63 diamond docket, the Braves continued where they had left off in '62—winning conference games—and boosted their string to 14 before the Berry Vikings ended the two season reign.

Regardless of the outcome in that upsetting experience with Berry, the Braves went on to claim their second consecutive conference title and were invited to the NAIA District 25 National Playoffs: Here, the Braves defeated Georgia Southern, defending National Champions, in the first game and then lost the following two to be dropped from further action.

The 1963 Braves had seven representatives on the All-Conference team which is selected by Conference coaches and officials. The seven were Ronnie Burchfield, Wyatt Webb, Gary Holmes, Steve Norris, Johnny DeVore, Don Thibeault, and Oliver "Rocks" Hudgins.

Coach D'Armi, for the second consecutive year, was named the "Coach of the Year" in the GIAC. In March, after his team had defeated nationally ranked V.M.I., Coach D'Armi was named the "National Coach of the Month" in the Collegiate Baseball magazine.

Coach D'Armi mirrored his feelings of last year when he stated that the 1964 season will be the roughest in the history of the school. They open the season with Yale University, another nationally respected team, and follow them up with such opponents as Oglethorpe and North Carolina Wesleyan.

With five of the seven All-Conference selections of last year back for another tour of duty the Braves will once again be the team to beat in the 1964 baseball season.

M.A.A.

The Men's Athletic Association strives to encourage participation in an organized program of intramural sports. Each male student is given an opportunity to engage in a wide variety of events during the year which include: football, tug-o-war, basketball, bowling, volleyball, ping pong, horseshoes, tennis, track, swimming, and softball.

The West Georgia College intramural program under the direction of Coach Tom D'Armi is one of the best organized in the southeast. Its high rate of student participation is well above the national average for schools of comparative size.

Football Final Standings

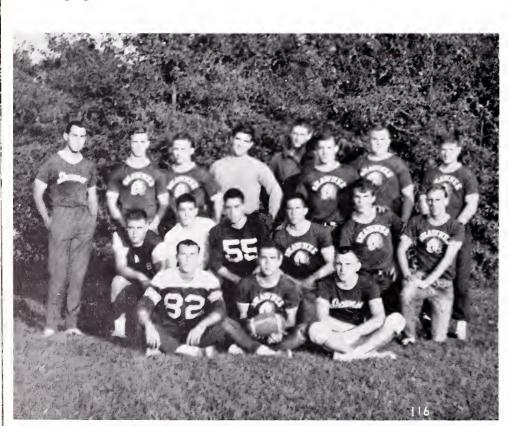

Apache Shawnee Seminole First Place Second Place Third Place

Billy Whitworth receives medical attention for a cut eye after a hard fought game.

APACHES: The Apaches again dominated the intramural football action for the second consecutive year losing only one game in the 1964 season.

A hard charging Navaho line put pressure on the quarterback in a game against the Sioux.

SHAWNEES: A small, fast, and aggressive team which captured second place from the Seminoles in the final game of the season.

Mercer Wilson scores two points for the Mohawks.

SEMINOLES: A well-balanced team on offense and defense, the Seminoles proved to be the only team capable of beating the Apaches.

CHEROKEES: A team that proved to be tough to beat, particularly in the latter part of the season.

Block that kick!

Ronnie Blake of the Shawnee moves after a Mohawk about to turn the corner.

NAVAHO: Possessed of one of the better running offenses in the league.

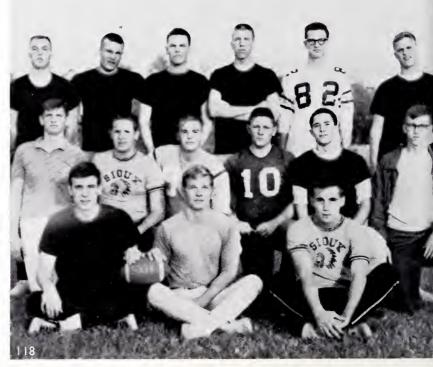

MOHAWK: Potentially one of the better teams. On occasions looked as good as any of them.

Tug-of-War

The Second Annual MAA Tug-of-War was a tremendous success this year with increased participation.

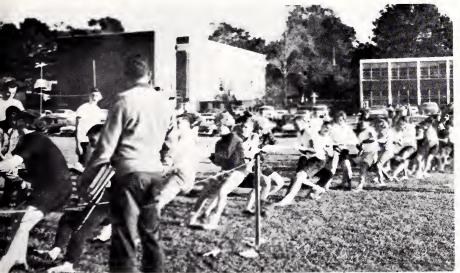

Teams composed of 20 girls and 20 boys pulled against each other in a grueling contest of strength and stamina.

A strong Mohawk team captured first place honors followed in second and third place by the Sioux and the Cherokees.

Coach D'Armi gives the "go" sign and the action begins.

"Pull! . . . Pull! . . . Pull! . . . Pull!!"

Horseshoe Tournament

A hundred and fourteen participants engaged in competition for Horseshoe Champion of West Georgia College. Gerald Turner of the Mohawks placed first, Wilbur Sikes of the Shawnee second, and Steve Norris of the Apaches third.

WAA Sponsors Tribes and Tourneys

Action speaks louder than words. Action, sportsmanship, and competition opened the 1964 W.A.A. athletic season with as much enthusiasm packed into each tribe bout as is felt in intercollegiate competition. The Women's Athletic Association maintains a program wide in scope and reaching far into the many phases of campus life. The basic goal is to promote physical, social, emotional, and mental development through a comprehensive program in soccer, basketball, volleyball, bowling, tennis, badminton, table tennis, horseshoes, darts, bridge, and hopscotch.

OFFICE OF PRESIDENT

November 29, 1963

To the Student Body West Georgia College Carrollton, Georgia

Dear Students:

It is a great pleasure to extend my cordial greetings to you in this Thirtieth Anniversary of West Georgia College.

After twenty-four years of operation as an excellent junior college, and six years of rapid expansion and development in a period of transition from junior to senior college status, we are now coming of age as a senior institution of higher learning. The quality of our faculty and students has increased to the point where we are one of the best senior colleges in the State of Georgia. And, we are confident that we will soon become one of the outstanding colleges in the South. West Georgia College will continue to move forward as the "College of the Present and the Future."

As West Georgia College becomes an excellent place for higher learning, I hope that you will take full advantage of her offerings and develop your capabilities to the maximum. But don't expect the faculty to do the whole job of developing your intellectual powers. As Alfred North Whitehead says "We have to remember that the valuable intellectual development of self-development and that it mostly takes place between the ages of sixteen and thirty." I urge you not to waste any of these precious years.

I wish that it were possible for me to know each of you well enough to greet you by name whenever we pass on the campus. Unfortunately, this is not possible, but I want you to know that my interest in your welfare is just as great as if it were. Don't let this keep you from coming to see me, though. You have a standing invitation. In any case, I hope that you will drop by before you graduate and talk with me about your plans for the future.

Best wishes for success in your chosen vocation and for a life of happiness, enriched by service to your fellow man.

Sincerely,

James E. Boyd

Seniors — Class of Knowledge, leadership, and determination are essentials for true greatness. Knowledge to give us understanding of the challenge which confronts mankind. Leadership to move forward and to move others forward without hesitation or doubt. Determination which is slowed only by defeat and drives each onward until the final victory. The road of greatness and of mediocrity lies before. The road of greatness beckons those with the courage to tread its upward climb. The satisfaction that comes only with hard work and accomplishment is the reward.

As college graduates, the world with its many opportunities calls those with the initiative and foresight to perceive. The day of decision is here! May there be the firmness that dedication gives as we move forward.
